Ellis Fischel Cancer Symposium

August 26-27, 2016

The Lodge of Four Seasons
Lake Ozark, Missouri

Current Perspectives in Multi-Disciplinary Cancer Care

Target Audience:

Medical oncologists,
radiation oncologists,
surgical oncologists,
general surgeons,
oncology nurses and nurse practitioners, and other health care providers interested in the care of cancer patients

Learning Objectives:

- Understand the multi-disciplinary management of malignancies.
- Discuss how to integrate and utilize the latest advances into daily practice.

Purpose:

Attendees at this educational event will gain knowledge in the diagnosis, care and multi-disciplinary management of malignancies. Participants should be able to apply new concepts and latest advances in their daily practice.

Dear Colleague,

It is with great excitement that I write to personally invite you to the inaugural Ellis Fischel Cancer Symposium on Friday, August 26 and Saturday, August 27 at The Lodge of Four Seasons in Lake Ozark. The symposium will feature case-based presentations on current perspectives in multi-disciplinary cancer care, including Skin/Soft Tissue, GI, Thoracic, GU, Neuro, Head and Neck, GYN, Breast and Hematologic malignancies. Cases may be submitted for presentation by visiting medicine.missouri.edu/cme/efcs16.

The objective of this educational event will be to offer knowledge in the diagnosis, care and multi-disciplinary management of malignancies. Participants should be able to apply new concepts and the latest advances into their daily practices. This event is approved for AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)™. Nursing CE Credit will be provided by the University of Missouri Sinclair School of Nursing. The cost to attend is $50.

I also welcome you to join us for the 20th Anniversary Ellis Fischel Gala on August 26 - 27 at The Lodge of Four Seasons. The 2016 Gala will benefit immunotherapy programs at Ellis Fischel Cancer Center. All Ellis Fischel Cancer Symposium participants will receive a ticket to the Gala reception, which will be held the evening of Friday, August 26. The silent auction, dinner, program and entertainment—featuring The Manhattan Transfer—will be held the evening of Saturday, August 27. If you are interested in attending Saturday's event, please visit muhealth.org/services/cancer/2016-ellis-fischel-gala for additional details and registration information.

I do hope to see you at the beautiful Lake of the Ozarks in August!

Sincerely,

Kevin Staveley-O'Carroll, MD, PhD, FACS
