Multidisciplinary Consortium to Advance Genetic Counseling in Oncology

The Iowa Oncology Society (IOS) has launched a NEW education project—spearheaded by IOS President Matthew Obinna Nwaneri, MD, MBA—to address the barriers to genetic testing, counseling, and screening for patients in Iowa diagnosed with cancer and their family members.

Through this project, IOS will from a consortium of stakeholders and multidisciplinary providers to identify policy-, advocacy-, and research-based strategies to better enable the use of genetic counselors by oncologists and patients in Iowa.
